Write us an FPSLIC™ application note and we will give you 6 months software…FREE!

Credit where credit is due right!

So here's the deal…..

We at Atmel think that once you start using our FPSLIC starter kit that you'll come up with lots of neat ideas on how to use the board and the FPSLIC device.

We want to hear about those ideas and share them with other FPSLIC designers through articles, the Atmel web site and application briefs.

For every article you submit to us that is approved we will give you 6 months of FPSLIC software (a US$500 value) and list you in our FPSLIC hall of fame on the Atmel WWW site.

What can the application note be on?

The application note can be on anything relevant to FPSLIC. Design examples with HDL and/or C/ASM code are most likely to be approved.

The application note must be submitted in Word® format and all appropriate support files.

We are interested in content not layout so don't worry about making the application note look pretty Atmel will take care of that. However commented code and simulation test benches (HDL) are required !!!! See the guidelines on the next page.

Is this offer open to anyone?

Yes – anywhere in the world. Although all application notes etc. must be in English.

How do I submit an idea?

On the Atmel www site you will find a word file stk94_apps.zip. Fill it out and e-mail (fpslic@atmel.com) or fax it (+1 (408) 487 2637) to us – this should not take more than 10 minutes to complete.

How do I know if it's been approved?

Atmel may approve application notes at its sole discretion. If we like the application and it has not already been submitted by some else we will approve it. We will extend your existing license for 6 months on acceptance of the application note and all appropriate support files as detailed above.

If you have any questions we can we contacted on +1 (408) 436 4119 or e-mail us at fpslic@atmel.com

By submitting an application note or article you acknowledge that the submission is your original work and you agree to have your name and submission published. All submitted application notes are the sole property of Atmel and may be used for any purpose.

The software is provided "as is" and is non-transferable and not redeemable for cash.

Atmel will have worldwide rights to publish all materials submitted.
